1.2.1 Submitting Material

Once you have clicked on 'Add Material' you are presented with a screen to let you submit.

The screenshot shows a web interface with a sidebar on the left containing links like '2010 CERN', 'Programme', 'List', 'Index', 'Reference', and 'Contributions'. The main area displays a modal dialog titled 'Upload Material' with a close button (X) in the top right corner. The dialog has a tab labeled 'Upload'. Inside, there are two radio buttons for 'Location': 'Local file' and 'External resource (hyperlink)', with the latter selected. Below this is a text field for 'URL' containing 'www.example.com/mypdf.pdf', with a small example text below it: 'Example: http://www.example.com/YourPDFFile.pdf'. There is a text area for 'Description'. Below that is a 'Material type' dropdown menu showing 'Slides' and a link 'or other'. A red text message states: 'You're about to create a new material type. Please select who can access it:'. There are three radio buttons for access: 'Same people as parent Contribution (currently open to everyone, but can change)' (selected), 'Only me and the users I specify', and 'Everyone'. At the bottom is a 'Create Resource' button.

You can choose of which material type you want to submit, upload a file, and enter a description or comment.

When the material has been submitted it will appear in the contribution details
